

The Wounded Warrior Experience

A Veterans Day special hosted by FOX News' Bret Baier, the Wounded Warrior Experience honors wounded troops from the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps.

Thousands of our soldiers return from combat severely injured and now face extraordinary challenges in transitioning to civilian life. Through sheer determination and their own exceptionally difficult rehabilitation efforts, they have rebounded with strength and have inspirational stories to share.

Broadcasted nationally and internationally on the Pentagon Channel and the American Forces Network, this one hour show examines the medical issues these heroes confront, including Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), the role of athletics in the recovery process, and the obstacles these men and women must overcome in joining the workforce.

FSG provided strategic marketing, public relations and consulting services, while securing partners for the event.
